iknowit is another math website that I will be using. I will be able to assign different lessons for the children to complete. I will let you know when your child has lessons to complete.

When you go to www.iknowit.com your child will need to click login. Our class code is rowe20. Their username and password are the same username and password that we use for iReady and Lexia. Username is your child's initials and their lunch number - br32000. Their password is just their lunch number 32000. Please contact me if you have problems getting on the site.
